DICKERSON-COOKLEY

Miss Bobbie Nell Dickerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Dickerson, became the bride of Harvey Harrison Cookley, son of Mrs. Lillian B. Cookley, Friday evening, Nov. 2, at the home of the bride's parents.

Elder V. F. Agan performed the double ring ceremony in a setting of white gladioli, chrysanthemums, ferns and magnolia leaves, flanked by white burning tapers in branched candelabra.

The music was rendered by Mrs. V. F. Agan, who was given in marriage by her brother, Reggie Dickerson, wore a navy blue suit with matching accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid. Miss Betty Dickerson was her sister's maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a navy suit with white accessories and carried a nosegay of chrysanthemums.

James Edwards, of Augusta, served as Mr. Cookley's best man.

Mrs. Dickerson, mother of the bride, chose a gray dress with black accessories. Mrs. Cookley, the groom's mother, wore a suit of gun metal gray with black accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held. The bride and groom were seated with two tiered wedding cake, wreathed with ivy. Burning tapers, in silver candelabra, lighted the table.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Cookley will reside in Augusta, where the groom is employed by the DuPont Company.

HUNNICUTT-IDE

Miss Barbara Ide of Cheltenham, Gloucestershire, England, became the bride of A2/c Charles Hunnicutt, Jr., recently returned from service to join his fiancée, who preceded him to Statesboro.

The couple were married Sunday afternoon, Nov. 23, in the parlor of the Methodist parsonage, with Rev. Frederick Wilson officiating in the presence of close relatives.

The bride was lovely in a suit of blue with white pin checks. She wore a white velvet cloak with silver sequin trim. Her nylon blouse and gloves were white. Her bag was black velvet and her shoes, black suede. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Serving as his brother's best man was Joe Hunnicutt and attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Eunice Atkins of Savannah.

Immediately following the marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Hunnicutt

STATESBORO GUESTS AT JACKSON-HOLLAND WEDDING

Those from Statesboro attending the marriage of Miss Jo Ann Jackson to Ensign Billy Holland in Fitzgerald Sunday afternoon, Nov. 30, were: Mr. and Mrs. Roger Holland, Dr. Roger Holland Jr., Bobby Holland, Mrs. M. E. Grimes, Mrs. Rufus Brady, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Addicks, Mr. and Mrs. George Bean, Miss Linda Bean, Dr. and Mrs. Waldo Ford, Mrs. Virgil Lee Hilliard, Miss Marie Wood, Mrs. Inman Foy Sr., Miss Maxine Foy, Mr. and Mrs. James Bland, Johnny Brannen, Mr. and Mrs. Hinton Booth, Mr. and Mrs. James Collins, Miss Lyn Collins, Mrs. Grover Brannen, Miss Betty Brannen, and Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Johnston.

The ceremony took place in the City Baptist Church with Rev. Gus Peacock reading the vows. Wedding music was furnished by Mrs. George Kelly, pianist, and Miss Lucile Purser, vocalist.

Palms, fern trees and burning tapers formed a background for three large arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Miss Sadie Pelote served as her sister's maid of honor and was attired in a navy suit with pink carnation corsage.

The bride was lovely in a white suit with a lavender orchid corsage.

Mrs. Pelote wore black with white carnations. Mrs. McCorkle wore beige with maroon carnations.

LANIER-DYESS
Miss Cora Lee Lanier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. (Bub) Lanier, became the bride of Cpl. R. V. Dyess, at the home of Elder and Mrs. V. F. Agan, Thursday morning, Nov. 20. Elder Agan performed the double ring ceremony in a quiet service.

The bride wore a dark green suit with black accessories. Her corsage was of Golden Rapture roses. After a short wedding trip, Cpl. Dyess returned to his post at Fort Bragg, where he will be joined later by his bride.

SAPP-JETER
Announcement is made this week of the engagement of Miss Hazel Sapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sapp of Claxton, Georgia, to Sgt. Bob Jeter, son of Mrs. E. T. Lloyd of Carrollton, Georgia.

Miss Sapp, a graduate of Collins High School is now employed at the Ellis Drug Co.

Sgt. Jeter, a graduate of Carrollton High School, is now serving in the U. S. Air Force stationed at Hunter Field in Savannah, Georgia.

The wedding will take place at an early date at the home of her parents in Claxton, Ga.

Others present were Mrs. E. W. Barnes, Mrs. Mark Toole, Mrs. Hal Macdon, Jr., Mrs. Charlie Robbins, Jr., Mrs. George Byrd, Mrs. John Godbee, Mrs. Charles Brannen, Mrs. Eddie Rushing, Mrs. Johnny DeLoach, Dr. Helen Deal and Mrs. Fred Hodges.

THANKSGIVING DAY DINNER GUESTS of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Simmons were Mrs. George P. Whigham, Mrs. Ethel Ray, and Billy Ray, the latter a student at U. of Ga., the former of Bartow; Mrs. W. A. Bedfield and daughter, Janice of Dublin.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brim returned to their home in Sasser after spending Thanksgiving holidays with Mrs. Brim's mother, Mrs. Rufus Brady, and attending the Jackson-Holland wedding in Fitzgerald Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Chodnicki of Washington, D. C., visited Mrs. Chodnicki's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Deal during the holidays.

BETTY JOE WOODWARD NAMED ALTERNATE CHIEF LEADER AT TC
Miss Betty Jo Woodward, Statesboro freshman, has been chosen as an alternate member of the cheer-leader team at Georgia Teachers College. Five girl cheerleaders will accompany the college basketball squad to the Gator Bowl tournament at Jacksonville Beach, Fla., December 29-30.

Mrs. C. R. Parrish Dies In Columbia, S. C.; Rites Held at Baptist Church

By Mrs. John A. Robertson

Mrs. C. R. PARRISH DIES
The people of this community were saddened last week when news was received here of the death of Mrs. C. R. Parrish, who died of a heart attack in Columbia, S. C.

Mrs. and Mrs. Parrish made their home in Brooklet for many years and while living here she was active in church and civic affairs, being president of the W.M.S., of the Baptist Church and of the Parent-Teacher Association.

The body of Mrs. Parrish was brought here to the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Parrish Sr., and funeral services were conducted by the Baptist Church by the Rev. Leroy Cleverton of Savannah, assisted by Rev. Carl E. Cassidy, pastor of the Brooklet Baptist Church.

The pall bearers were J. D. Alderman, F. W. Hughes, S. R. Kennedy, H. M. Robertson, A. J. Lee, and John C. Cromley.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Parrish is survived by two sons, C. R. Parrish, Jr., of Tucker, and J. W. Parrish of Columbia, S. C., by one daughter, Mrs. John Rone of Atlanta, by one sister, Mrs. Joe Shearouse of Orlando, Fla., by one brother, the Rev. Walter Johnson of Kentucky, and by eight grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted by Smith-Tillman Mortuary of Statesboro.

BROOKLET FARM BUREAU
The December meeting of the Farm Bureau and the Associated Women was held Wednesday night. The men's group met in the community house and enjoyed a supper. John C. Cromley, president, conducted the business meeting.

The Associated Women held their meeting in the homemaking department of the school. Mrs. James Lanier, chairman of the hostess committee, was assisted by Mrs. Harold Smith, Mrs. Bob Mikel, Mrs. W. Lee McElveen, Mrs. R. Brindline, Mrs. Jimmy Dollar, and Mrs. Paul Groover in serving a lovely supper.

After supper the group enjoyed a Christmas party arranged by Mrs. John C. Cromley, chairman. Mrs. William Cromley and Mrs. John F. Spence. Each member of the organization brought a Christmas wrapped package and these gifts were exchanged.

The first meeting of the New Year will be held on January 17, and Mrs. John Spence will be chairman of the hostess committee. The program will be a cooking demonstration by Mrs. Charlotte Anderson of the Georgia Power Company.

Steve Pace Tells Farmers They Need Not Fear Farm Price Decline Now

Farmers need not fear too much the decline in farm prices during the next two years, Steve Pace, former third district congressman, stated here recently to some 500 farmers attending the annual Producers Cooperative Association meeting.

The thing that worries most is the slant given to the cost of living, indicating that farmers are getting rich at the prices being paid them according to Mr. Pace. He enumerated many instances where the present cost of living is caused by the increase cost of processing, handling and retailing farm products after they leave the farmer. The data given showed that since 1918 the price of farm products have actually gone steadily downward, yet the cost of living has gone upward all that time. Even the cost of practically every item used on the farm has gone up several points during this period.

One of the last acts of the past session of congress was to make price supports mandatory at 90 per cent parity for the next two years, Mr. Pace pointed out. However, cotton farmers have literally dumped this large crop on the market this fall and put more cotton on the market than it can take. Farmers knew better, but just did not do as they knew should have been done, Mr. Pace declared.

Cattle prices will stay fairly favorable despite the heavy increase in production, just as long as so many people are gainfully employed. When 62 million people are working at good wages, they are going to eat beef steak, Mr. Pace thinks.

Farmers will have to band together into a strong farm organization and into buying and selling groups, such as the Farm Bureau and the Producers Cooperative Association, if the decline in prices is halted at a favorable level, Mr. Pace warned.

Congressman Prince H. Preston lauded local farmers for the progress they have made in recent years and stated that he did not appreciate such progress so much before he had a chance to tour some of the agricultural areas of Europe.

Delmas Rushing was renamed to the board of directors of the organization, and he is serving as president, and W. H. Smith Sr., renamed as vice president.

E. L. Anderson, manager of the coop, reported that the organization did $525,000 worth of business during the past physical year and saved above all expenses $34,871.

This organization opened a farm supply store here in 1944 with one car load of feed bought on the credit. The group now has $82,000 reserve built up.

C. W. Paris, Atlanta, stated that the Cotton Producers Association was working with 38 mutuals such as the one here and that the organization had grown from $2,200 in 1933 to a net worth of $5,272,193.19 today.

A fish fry was served to the group in the new livestock auditorium just prior to the meeting Thursday night. Mr. Pace stated that he had visited stock yards all over the nation and had not seen one that was as good as the local group.

Stilson F. H. A Win Early Bird Award

Stilson High Future Homemaker chapter was on the honor list of the state's Early Bird chapters this year. It was one of the 28 that affiliated with the state and national FHA during the very first week of school. It was commended for its promptness by Mrs. J. M. Barber, state adviser.

This chapter is one of nearly four hundred in Georgia getting ready for the observance of National Future Homemaker Week November 2-8. There are sixteen thousand Future Homemakers in Georgia and 325,000 in the nation. Organized only eight years ago, it has become one of the world's fastest growing organizations.

Georgia now ranks fifth in membership in the entire nation, and will be entitled to send at least a hundred FHA delegates and advisers to the national convention which will meet in Columbus, Ohio, next July.

Officers of the Stilson chapter are: Shirley McClelland, president; Joan Morris, vice-president; Shirley Newman, secretary; Angelyn Sanders, treasurer; Allie Pay Harden, chairman of public relations; Sarah Driggers, chairman of music and recreation; Mattie Lou Grooms, chairman of projects; Lois Nan Richardson, parliamentarian; and Uldine Shuman, historian.

Betty Womack, Statesboro coed at the University of Georgia, has been named treasurer of the women's freshman class. She was named to the office in an election climaxing a week's campaign on the University's coordinate campus.

The election was the last to be held on Coordinate before the Navy takes over there early next year.

Serving with her as other class officers are Carolyn Osteen, Atlanta, president; Marian Hopkins, Athens, vice president; and Carol Durden, Atlanta, secretary.

Nesmith President of West Side Group; Willis Williams Heads Stilson Bureau

Herman Nesmith was named president of the West Side Farm Bureau last week and Willis Williams head of the Stilson Farm Bureau.

To serve with Mr. Nesmith at West Side the group elected L. Carter Deal vice president and Leffler Akins secretary. Mrs. J. R. Chester was named Associated Women chairman. Mr. Williams has M. P. Martin as vice president and James E. Davis as secretary and Mrs. C. S. Proctor as associated women chairman.

These new officers will take over January. However, neither of these groups will hold a December meeting.

Henry S. Blitch served as chairman of the West Side nominating committee and made the report for that group. A. B. Burned made the report for the Stilson chapter. Mrs. C. M. Graham made the report for the ladies at Stilson.

West Side voted to continue their free-supply system of serving. W. W. Nesmith led the invocation and Ziba F. Tyson served as secretary.

C. M. Graham, member of the PMA county committee, asked that all the people that had not been contacted by their community committees to please let it be known so a report could be procured on the needs of their farm for conservation practices for 1953. This report will be necessary before payments can be made. Mr. Graham pointed out.

Mr. Graham stated that there would be a slight increase in peanut allotments for next year, but that it would be a very small percentage.

Motion pictures were a part of each of these programs. West

Three cheer leaders from Statesboro twirled in unheated circles, and psychophysics in Atlanta when they arrived to go, they discovered that their bags were locked up in the Athletic building at Tech. They played "Whose got the key?" with little joy, until the key appeared on the scene. Youth Frank Williams, freshman at Tech, lately of SHS could help the cheerleaders.

Yesir, Bandmaster Guyton McLendon really axed with pride as his band, in competition with fourteen of the best bands in the state, won first place and the award of 100 dollars. As this is Band Promotion Week such fine publicity is not bad—not bad at all! And so timely too, since the Jaycees, Joe Neville, President, are leading a fund drive for the band—in cooperation with the Band Mothers, under the direction of Mrs. Norman Campbell, President of the Band Mothers' Club, $150 dollars have been pledged. Since $2,000 is the sum needed to equip the band, according to the standards we would like to maintain, the Jaycees are sponsoring a drive to solicit funds by public contributions until the necessary amount has been raised.

Joe Neville is confident that the drive will be successful, for the Statesboro High School is definitely one of Statesboro's finest assets.

Friends of the former Martha Jean Nesmith—now Mrs. Charles Rodgers—in Frankfurt, Germany, where her husband represents the American Red Cross, will be interested in excerpts from a recent letter from Jean to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Josh Nesmith Sr.: "We left Frankfurt Saturday afternoon, arriving in Amsterdam, Holland, late Sunday night," she wrote. "The next morning we made a tour of the city visiting the home of the famous painter, Rembrandt—seeing the canals. Also we visited the Art Gallery where Rembrandt's painting, 'The Night Watch' hangs along with his less famous paintings of his mother, 'The Denial of St. Peter.' Jeremiah bewailing the Fall of Jerusalem—visited the harbor where the islands are hand-made on steel supports from the bottom of the harbor. We next made a tour of Brussels that afternoon, we visited the lace shops and watched the women making the lovely lace for which Brussels is famous. I bought a bridge table cover of linen trimmed with this lace. It is lovely! The next day we visited the battlefield of Waterloo, where Napoleon met his defeat. Then on to Paris!

"The very day we arrived, we toured the night clubs—four in all—first, one in the old section of Paris—I'm sure it must have been very old. It reminded me of dream walking in her wedding gown of shimmering satin and lace that must have been with the rose point in exquisitely beautiful design. Jo Ann made the bride dress herself! The bride's father, Rev. Chas. A. Jackson, Jr., performed the ceremony and the second song in nuptial music was written and composed by her father and dedicated to Jo Ann and Billy. Those from Statesboro thought the song very lovely. The Fitzgerald women were charming and were constantly shielding Margaret Jackson, mother of the bride, who had recently undergone a major operation, from the many tasks that confront any mother whose daughter is getting married. I had a word picture of the delicious courses served—at the luncheon at the Country Club. I recall distinctly boat-shaped shrimp with "Chicken Divinity" (breasts of chicken) with tender green sprouts of broccoli smothered with creamed cheese flanking it. At the rehearsal party, turkey was the piece de resistance. The dessert course was a delicious cake topped with whipped cream and cherries. Everything went off smoothly, though at one point the father of the groom, admitted that he was shaking "like a peach seed." I think Roger must have coined that.

Charles Jackson, in introducing the groom's mother, Eva Tolland, to his organist at Fitzgerald said, "This is Mrs. Cannon, she's almost as good as you, Mrs. Holland." But one of the most regrettable incidents during the wedding was the fact that no one remembered to turn on the recording machine after so much care had been taken to have it installed.
